GOING BACK IN TIME – SEE THE OLD WAY OF TRADING GOODS

On this enchanting and relaxed full day tour among the salt fields and rice paddies you will have a chance to see how trade was and is still done by people in rural Thailand, on the river itself – in boats; and then take another step back into Thailand’s cultural or natural history....

After a bit of a late breakfast and maybe grabbing some fruits and seafood for later, you can choose between the beautiful Rose Garden Park to see shows and exhibitions of traditional Thai culture, sport, and handicraft.

All our tours are private and our excellent guides stay busy. Book now to be sure to secure the dates you want!

SAMPHRAN RIVERSIDE (ROSE GARDEN)

The Suan Samphran (Rose Garden) is a breathtakingly landscaped 75 acres wrapped around a picturesque lake and filled with exciting cultural shows, demonstrations of traditional crafts and trades – and if you’re not worn out after that (or maybe if you are) there is also a golf course and spa to round out your day and ease any tensions you might have picked up.

Before industrialism came to Thailand, the rivers and canals were the pulsing arteries of the kingdom. Damnoen Saduak Floating Market is a breathtaking vestige of traditional Thai trade along the waterways, where you will climb aboard a boat and make your way, barely gliding past other boats loaded down with fruits, sweets, flowers, and other delights of the kingdom, through the bustling market waterway and back into Thailand’s past...

DAMNOEN SADUAK FLOATING MARKET

You will be able to see everything from dances and Muay Thai matches to pottery spinning and weaving demonstrations, all in a masterfully maintained and intoxicatingly serene and elegant setting.
